

CONSUMER PRIVACY POLICY

Last Updated: June 1, 2023

Your privacy is important to us. This Consumer Privacy Policy (“Privacy Policy”) explains how we collect, share, use, and protect your personal information through your online and offline interactions with us.

For California residents, this Privacy Policy is adopted in accordance with the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act of 2020 (collectively, the “CCPA”), and the California Online Privacy Protection Act (“CalOPPA”), and any terms defined in the CCPA and CalOPPA have the same meaning when used in this Privacy Policy.

As used in this Privacy Policy, “personal Information” means any information that identifies, relates to, describes, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular consumer or household.

Personal Information does not include: (i) publicly available information; (ii) deidentified or aggregated consumer information; or (iii) personal information covered by certain sector-specific privacy laws, including the Fair Credit Reporting Act (“FCRA”) and the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (“GLBA”).

This Privacy Policy also includes references and links to our other privacy policies which serve different purposes under various laws and regulations that apply to us.

I. CATEGORIES OF PERSONAL INFORMATION WE COLLECT

In the preceding 12-months, we have collected the following categories of personal information (please note that some categories overlap):

II. CATEGORIES OF SOURCES OF INFORMATION WE COLLECT

We obtain the categories of personal information listed above from one or more of the following categories of sources:

a. *From You or Your Authorized Agent

We may collect information directly from you or your authorized agent. For example, when you provide us your name and Social Security number to open an account and become a member. We also collect information indirectly from you or your authorized agent. For example, through information we collect from our members in the course of providing services to them.

b. *From Our Website and Applications That You Access on Your Mobile Device

We collect certain information from your activity on our website activity on our website (<https://www.chevronfcu.org>) and your use of applications on your mobile device. We may collect your IP address, device and advertising identifiers, browser type, operating system, Internet service provider (“ISP”), pages that you visit before and after visiting our website, the date and time of your visit, information about the links you click and pages you view on our website, and other standard server log information. We may also collect your mobile device’s GPS signal, or other information about nearby Wi-Fi access points and cell towers.

i. *The Role of Cookies and Other Online Tracking Technologies

We, or our service providers, and other companies we work with may deploy and use cookies, web beacons, local shared objects and other tracking technologies for various purposes, such as fraud prevention and to promote our products and services to you. Some of these tracking tools may detect characteristics or settings of the specific device you use to access our online services.

“Cookies” are small amounts of data a website can send to a visitor’s web browser. They are often stored on the device you are using to help track your areas of interest. Cookies may also enable us or our service providers and other companies we work with to relate your use of our online services over time to customize your experience. Most web browsers allow you to adjust your browser settings to decline or delete cookies, but doing so may degrade your experience with our online services.

Clear GIFs, pixel tags or web beacons—which are typically one-pixel, transparent images located on a webpage or in an email or other message—or similar technologies may be used on our sites and in some of our digital communications (such as email or other marketing messages). They may also be used when you are served advertisements, or you otherwise interact with advertisements outside of our online services. These are principally used to help recognize users, assess traffic patterns and measure site or campaign engagement.

“First party” cookies are stored by the domain (website) you are visiting directly. They allow the website’s owner to collect analytics data, remember language settings, and perform useful functions that help provide a good experience. “Third-party” cookies are created by domains other than the one you are visiting directly, hence the name third-party. They may be used for cross-site tracking, retargeting and ad-serving. We also believe that cookies fall into the following general categories:

- Essential Cookies: These cookies are technically necessary to provide website functionality. They are a website’s basic form of memory, used to store the preferences selected by a user on a given site. As the name implies, they are essential to a website’s functionality and cannot be disabled by users. For example, an essential cookie may be used to prevent users from having to log in each time they visit a new page in the same session.

- Performance and Function Cookies: These cookies are used to enhance the performance and functionality of a website, but are not essential to its use. However, without these cookies, certain functions (like videos) may become unavailable.
- Analytics and Customization Cookies: Analytics and customization cookies track user activity, so that website owners can better understand how their site is being accessed and used.
- Advertising Cookies: Advertising cookies are used to customize a user's ad experience on a website. Using the data collected from these cookies, websites can prevent the same ad from appearing again and again, remember user ad preferences, and tailor which ads appear based on a user's online activities.

ii. Online Advertising & Cross Context Behavioral Advertising

[Option 1: You may see advertisements when you use many of our online services. These advertisements may be for our own products or services (including pre-screened offers of credit) or for products and services offered by third parties. Which advertisements you see is often determined using the information we or our affiliates, service providers and other companies that we work with have about you, including information about your relationships with us (e.g., types of accounts held, transactional information, location of banking activity). To that end, where permitted by applicable law, we may share with others the information we collect from and about you.

Our advertising service providers may deliver our advertisements to you on non-affiliated websites. Such service providers control the manner in which the advertisements are delivered to you on such non-affiliated websites. You should generally be able to opt-out of receiving such advertisements from the service provider responsible for delivering the advertisement.

Cross-context behavioral advertising refers to the targeting of advertising to a consumer based on the consumer's personal information obtained from the consumer's activity across businesses, distinctly branded websites, applications, or services, other than the business, distinctly-branded website, application, or service with which the consumer intentionally interacts. We do not engage in cross-context behavioral advertising.

c. Third-party service providers in connection with our services or our business purposes

We collect information from third-party service providers that interact with us in connection with the services we perform or for our operational purposes. For example, a credit report we obtain from a credit bureau to evaluate a loan application. Another example is a third-party service provider that provides us information to help us detect security incidents and fraudulent activity.

d. Information we collect from third-parties for a commercial purpose

We collect information from third-parties for our commercial purposes. We partner with a limited number of third-party analytics and advertising firms. These third parties may use cookies or code processed by your browser to collect public information about your visits to our and other websites in order to provide customized experiences, advertisements or services. These parties may also collect information directly from you by contacting you telephonically, via email or through other communication channels. We do not disclose any information about you to such third-parties except as permitted by applicable laws and regulations, and we require such third-parties to follow applicable laws and regulations when they collect information from you to transfer such information to us.

III. HOW WE USE YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We may use or disclose personal information we collect for one or more of the following business purposes:

- To fulfill or meet the reason for which the information is provided. For example, you apply for a loan, and we use the information in your loan application to give you the loan.
- To provide you with information, products or services that you request from us.
- To evaluate your candidacy for employment or for an independent contractor engagement, and to administer employment-related benefits for you, your spouse or domestic partner, and your dependents.
- To provide you with email alerts, event registrations or other notices concerning our products or services, or events or news, that may be of interest to you.
- To carry out our obligations and enforce our rights arising from any contracts entered into between you and us, including for billing and collections.
- To improve our website and present its contents to you.
- For testing, research, analysis to improve our products and services and for developing new ones.
- To protect the rights, property or safety of us, our employees, our members or others.
- To detect security incidents, protecting against malicious, deceptive, fraudulent, or illegal activity, and prosecuting those responsible for that activity.
- To respond to law enforcement requests and as required by applicable law, court order, or governmental regulations.
- As described to you when collecting your personal information.
- To evaluate or conduct a merger, divestiture, restructuring, reorganization, dissolution or other sale or transfer of some or all of our assets, in which personal information held by us is among the assets transferred.

We also use your personal information to advance our commercial or economic interests (“commercial purpose”), such as advertising our membership, products and services, or enabling or effecting, directly or indirectly, a commercial transaction.

We do not use or disclose your sensitive personal information for any purpose other than, as reasonably necessary and proportionate, for the following purposes:

- To perform the services or provide the goods reasonably expected by an average consumer who requests those goods and services.
- To prevent, detect, and investigate security incidents that compromise the availability, authenticity, integrity, or confidentiality of stored or transmitted personal information.
- To resist malicious, deceptive, fraudulent, or illegal actions directed at the business and to prosecute those responsible for those actions.
- To ensure the physical safety of natural persons.
- For short-term, transient use, including, but not limited to, nonpersonalized advertising shown as part of your current interaction with the business, provided that the personal information is not disclosed to another third party and is not used to build a profile about you or otherwise alter your experience outside of your current interaction with us.
- For our service providers or contractors to perform services on our behalf, such as maintaining or servicing accounts, providing customer service, processing or fulfilling orders and transactions, verifying customer information, processing payments, providing financing, providing analytic services, providing storage, or providing similar services on our behalf; provided, however, that the use of your sensitive personal information is reasonably necessary and proportionate for this purpose.

- To verify or maintain the quality or safety of a service or device that is owned, manufactured for, or controlled by us, and to improve, upgrade, or enhance the service or device that is owned, manufactured for, or controlled by us; provided, however, that the use of your sensitive personal information is reasonably necessary and proportionate for this purpose.
- To collect or process sensitive personal information where such collection or processing is not for the purpose of inferring characteristics about you.

IV. DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

a. Disclosure for Business or Commercial Purposes

We disclose your personal information for our business or commercial purposes to the following parties:

1. Our third-party service providers;
2. Our affiliated websites and businesses in an effort to bring you improved service across our family of products and services, when permissible under relevant laws and regulations;
3. Other companies to bring you co-branded services, products or programs;
4. Third parties that help us advertise products, services or membership with us to you;
5. Third parties to whom you or your agents authorize us to disclose your personal information in connection with products or services we provide to you;
6. Third parties or affiliates in connection with a corporate transaction, such as a sale, consolidation or merger of our financial institution or affiliated business; and
7. Other third parties to comply with legal requirements such as the demands of applicable subpoenas and court orders; to verify or enforce our terms of use, our other rights, or other applicable policies; to address fraud, security or technical issues; to respond to an emergency; or otherwise to protect the rights, property or security of our customers or third parties.

In the preceding 12-months, we have disclosed the following categories of personal information for our business and commercial purposes and, for each category, the following categories of third-parties to whom such personal information was disclosed:

Category of Personal Information (Represented in alphabetical form from the categories listed in Section I)	Category of Third-Parties (Represented in numerical form from the categories of third-parties identified in this subsection (a) of this Section IV)
A	1, 3, 5, 7
J	1, 3, 5, 7

b. Sharing Your Personal Information for Cross-Context Behavioral Advertising

[Option 1: We have not shared your personal information to third-parties for cross-context behavioral advertising]

c. Selling Personal Information

Option 1: It is not our policy to sell personal information and we have not done so in the preceding 12-months.

V. RIGHTS AND CHOICES FOR CALIFORNIA RESIDENTS

If you are a California resident, this section describes your rights and choices regarding how we collect, share, use, and protect your personal information, how to exercise those rights, and limits and exceptions to your rights and choices under the CCPA.

a. Exceptions

In the following instances, the rights and choices in this Section V do not apply to you:

- If you are not a California resident.
- If we collected personal information covered by certain financial sector-specific privacy laws, including the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA) or California Financial Information Privacy Act (FIPA). How we collect, share, use and protect your personal information covered under the GLBA [or FIPA] is covered under our federal GLBA privacy policy and our [California notice, Important Privacy Choices for Consumers].
- Aggregate consumer information.
- Deidentified personal information.
- Publicly available information.

b. Access to Specific Information and Data Portability Rights

If the above exceptions do not apply, and you have not made this request more than twice in a 12-month period, you have the right to request that we disclose certain information to you about our collection and use of your personal information. Once we receive and confirm your request and verify that the request is coming from you or someone authorized to make the request on your behalf, we will disclose to you or your representative:

- The categories of personal information we collected about you.
- The categories of sources for the personal information we collected about you.
- Our business or commercial purpose for collecting, sharing or selling that personal information.
- The categories of third parties to whom we disclosed, shared or sold your personal information.
- The specific pieces of personal information we collected about you in a form that you can take with you (also called a “data portability request”).

c. Deletion Request Rights

You have the right to request that we delete any of your personal information that we collect from you and retained, subject to certain exceptions. Once we receive and verify your request, we will delete (and direct our service providers to delete) your personal information from our records, unless an exception applies. We may deny your deletion request if retaining the information is necessary for us or our service providers to:

1. Complete the transaction for which we collected the personal information, provide a good or service that you requested, take actions reasonably anticipated within the context of our ongoing business relationship with you, or otherwise perform our contract with you.

2. Help to ensure security and integrity to the extent the use of the your personal information is reasonably necessary and proportionate for those purposes.
3. Debug to identify and repair errors that impair existing intended functionality.
4. Exercise free speech, ensure the right of another consumer to exercise that consumer's right of free speech, or exercise another right provided for by law.
5. Comply with the California Electronic Communications Privacy Act pursuant to Chapter 3.6 (commencing with Section 1546) of Title 12 of Part 2 of the Penal Code.
6. Engage in public or peer-reviewed scientific, historical, or statistical research in the public interest that adheres to all other applicable ethics and privacy laws, when the businesses' deletion of the information is likely to render impossible or seriously impair the achievement of such research, if you previously provided informed consent.
7. To enable solely internal uses that are reasonably aligned with your expectation based on your relationship with the us and compatible with the context in which the you provided the information.
8. Comply with a legal obligation.

d. *Right of Correction

You have the right to request changes to any of your personally identifiable information that we have collected through our website and online services.

e. *Exercising Access, Data Portability, Deletion and Correction Rights

To exercise the access, data portability, deletion and correction rights described above, a consumer or a consumer's authorized agent may submit a verifiable consumer request to us by either:

- Calling us at 510-627-5000 or 800-232-8101
- Completing the CCPA Request Form available at this website
- Visiting one of our branch locations.

f. *General Statement Regarding Identity Verification

We cannot respond to your request or provide you with personal information if we cannot verify your identity or authority to make the request and confirm the personal information relates to you. Making a verifiable consumer request does not require you to create an account with us. However, we may consider requests made through a password protected account with us sufficiently verified when the request relates to personal information associated with that specific account. If we receive a request through and authorized agent of the consumer, we will require:

1. Submission of a written document signed by the consumer with the consumer's permission for the authorized agent to submit a verifiable request on their behalf and require the authorized agent to verify their own identity to us; or
2. The consumer to directly verify with us that they have authorized the agent to submit the request.
3. We will not require either of the above if the authorized agent provides a copy of a power of attorney pursuant to California Probate Code sections 4121 to 4130 and we are able to verify authorized agent's identity.

We will only use personal information provided in the request to verify the requestor's identity or authority to make it. We will ask you to complete the CCPA Request Form which will ask you for information that will help us verify your identity. The verification process includes matching the information you provide us with the information we have in our records. The stringency of the verification process depends on the sensitivity of the request, whether or not the consumer is a current customer with a password-protected account, the need to prevent unauthorized access and disclosure of personal information and other factors. Within 10-days of your submission of your CCPA request, we will notify you of any additional information we might need to verify your identity.

g. Response Timing and Format

We endeavor to respond to a verifiable consumer request within 45 days of its receipt. If we require more time (up to 90 days), we will inform you of the reason and extension period in writing. The response we provide will also explain the reasons we cannot comply with a request, if applicable. For data portability requests, we will select a format to provide your personal information that is readily useable and should allow you to transmit the information from one entity to another entity without hindrance. We do not charge a fee to process or respond to your verifiable consumer request.

h. Right of Non-Discrimination

We will not discriminate against you for exercising any of your rights in this Privacy Policy and under applicable laws. Unless permitted by law, we will not:

- Deny you goods or services.
- Charge you different prices or rates for goods or services, including through granting discounts or other benefits, or imposing penalties.
- Provide you a different level or quality of goods or services.
- Suggest that you may receive a different price for goods or services or a different level or quality of goods or services.
- Retaliate against you as our employee, applicant for employment, or independent contractor.

VI. DO NOT TRACK SIGNALS

Industry standards are currently evolving and we may not separately respond to or take any action with respect to a "do not track" configuration set in your internet browser.

VII. CCPA OPT-OUT PREFERENCE SIGNALS

The following expresses how we address opt-out preference signals to comply with our obligations to California consumers under the CCPA. The CCPA defines an "opt-out preference signal" as a signal that is sent by a platform, technology or mechanism, on a consumer's behalf, that communicates the consumer's choice to opt-out of the sale and sharing of personal information for cross-context behavioral advertising purposes and that complies with certain technical requirements.

[Option 1: Since we do not sell or share your personal information for cross-context behavioral advertising purposes, we do not respond to opt-out preference signals.

VIII. CHANGES TO OUR PRIVACY POLICY

We reserve the right to amend this Privacy Policy at our discretion and at any time. When we make changes to this Privacy Policy, we will notify you by email or through a notice on our website homepage.

IX. CHILDREN'S ONLINE INFORMATION PRIVACY

Our website is not intended for children under the age of 13. We do not knowingly collect, maintain, or use personally identifiable information from our website about children under the age of 13 without parental consent. For more information about the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA), visit the Federal Trade Commission website: www.ftc.gov.

X. LINKING TO THIRD-PARTY WEBSITES

We may provide links to websites that are owned or operated by other companies ("third-party websites"). When you use a link online to visit a third-party website, you will be subject to that website's privacy and security practices, which may differ from ours. You should familiarize yourself with the privacy policy, terms of use and security practices of the linked third-party website before providing any information on that website. We are not responsible for the third-party website's use, collection, sale or sharing of your personal information.

XI. SECURITY

We use reasonable physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards that comply with federal standards to protect and limit access to personal information. This includes device safeguards and secured files and buildings.

Please note that information you send to us electronically may not be secure when it is transmitted to us. We recommend that you do not use unsecure channels to communicate sensitive or confidential information (such as your Social Security number) to us.

XII. CONTACT INFORMATION

If you have any questions or comments about this Privacy Policy, the ways in which we collect and use your personal information, your choices and rights regarding such use, or wish to exercise your rights, or to request changes to any of your personally identifiable information that we have collected, please do not hesitate to contact us at:
